Fort William is known as the ‘Outdoor Capital of the UK’ for several very exciting reasons. The area has Britain’s highest mountain, two ski resorts, a World Cup mountain bike course, the world’s biggest indoor ice climbing wall and is the end of the West Highland Way and the start of the Great Glen Way. Of course, you don’t have to be an adrenaline junkie to enjoy yourself here. We also have rare wildlife, exquisite seafood and spectacular views round every corner. We certainly have a past that’s packed with intrigue, achievement and exploration for you to marvel at.

It’s a particularly exciting time to visit with Scotland’s Highlands and Islands having been named a top region in Lonely Planet’s Best in Travel in 2019.

The Great Glen
If you have a week to spare, why not tackle the 73-mile Great Glen Way? This grand long distance route runs from Fort William to Inverness, or you could just stroll along one section in a day. You could have your best chance of spotting the Loch Ness Monster...

Ardnamurchan
A worthy trip to enjoy the peace and spectacular scenery – you’ll be one of very few people exploring 50 unspoilt square miles of moorland, forests, lochs and beaches. Was that a golden eagle? Probably. At the most westerly point on the British mainland, Ardnamurchan Lighthouse has been guiding ships safely through the waters off Scotland’s west coast since 1849. If you don’t have the energy to climb to the top of the tower, you can enjoy the outlook from the viewing platform by the original air-powered fog horn, which is a well-established whale and dolphin watching area.

The Road to the Isles
Even the name ‘Road to the Isles’ sounds poetic and adventurous – and the reality is even better. It twists like a ribbon from the base of Ben Nevis in Fort William out through woods, glens and moorland to the pristine white sands of Arisaig and Morar. There are sublime views to the islands and finally the bustling port of Mallaig.

Hop aboard a boat at Glenfinnan for a cruise along stunning Loch Shiel. Many people catch a ferry from Mallaig to the Isle of Skye, which of course is a wonderful destination.

From deserted golden beaches to the peak of the UK’s highest mountain, Fort William & Lochaber is packed with dramatic scenery and must-see attractions that will take you off the beaten track. Get ready for thrilling adventures, cuisine to make your mouth water and living history around every corner.

Glen Nevis. You can be there in minutes, looking up at the stunning ridges of the Mamores.

The rain that falls on Ben Nevis is very lucky – some of it is turned into fine whisky at the Ben Nevis Distillery. Pop in for a tour and a dram.

Did you know that shinty is one of the world’s oldest team sports? You can watch a local match on most summer weekends.

Ben Nevis isn’t the only big mountain in the area – there are 67 Munros (hills over 3,000ft) in Fort William & Lochaber.

If you fancy a quieter island adventure hop on the ferry to the nearby Small Isles of Muck, Rum, Egg and Canna.

Rum is the biggest of the Small Isles but only has around 30 inhabitants. Don’t miss the stunning walk to Guirdil Bay and Bloodstone hill on the west side of this wild island.

The Isle of Eigg is simply delightful. As you walk along its ‘singing sands’, look up to the cliffs above Cleadale for golden eagles.

While the roads less travelled are often the most rewarding, the roads that take you through the highlands are also quite remarkable!

The outdoors doesn’t get much greater. Here you can climb the highest mountains, go fossil hunting on empty beaches and roam with the deer over wild moorlands.

Head to Lochaline Dive Centre for some of the best wreck dives in the UK, witness basking sharks up close, experience boat trips in the Sound of Mull, as well as scenic walking and cycling around Morven. Or try out canoeing on Loch Sunart where you might spot seals, or a sea eagle soaring above you.

Ben Nevis, Britain’s highest peak, stands at 4,413ft above sea level. It’s a honeypot for walkers, climbers and hill runners. Watch the Ben Nevis race in September, a famous up-and-down challenge. Most walkers climb Ben Nevis by the ‘Pony Track’ from which you’ll get fantastic views.

Enjoy a more relaxing getaway and explore the wilderness, cultural spaces, and nature without the popular adrenaline rush. Make your way around the Ardnamurchan Peninsula tasting the delicious local and seasonal produce, pedal through some of the most breathtaking scenery, take a dip in the remote lochs and rivers, and try out various types of accommodation on offer.

Soothe your spirits walking the trails around Glencoe Lochan. Then, when you need a buzz, try kayaking or sailing at nearby Loch Leven. Knoydart is one of the wildest and far flung parts of Britain. It has mountains, lochs, woods and beaches. There you can walk, fish, kayak and sail and hardly see a soul. You simply have to visit Glen Coe. From peaceful walks along the glen floor to the most exhilarating ridge scramble in the country, you will find an adventure to remember here. Even just driving through you can stop to enjoy stunning mountain views and explore waterfalls.

If you like the tang of a sea breeze in your nostrils, the feel of rough rock under your fingers and the calmness that only natural beauty brings, you are going to absolutely love it here.

We have more Munros and Corbetts than you can shake a walking pole at, making Lochaber one of Scotland’s finest hillwalking destinations. After-lunch saunter? Gravity-defying ice-climb? Yes to both and everything in between. Check out www.walkhighlands.co.uk/fortwilliam for ideas on where to go, maps and detailed information on walking routes.

Imagine your ideal adventure playground, with activities, challenges and surprises round every corner. Now imagine that playground covers 2,000 square miles. You have just pictured Fort William & Lochaber. From climbing to white-water rafting, mountain biking to skiing, and more leisurely pursuits like golf and fishing, there’s so much for you to choose from.

It’s family cycling but with a difference – head to Leanachan Forest where children can navigate round the Trailquest course or set off on a high wire adventure.

With 25 miles of forest trails around the Nevis Range, you don’t have to go down the same route twice.

Let your inner child (and your real children) loose by whizzing down the 40 m ZoomTrax tubing slide in an inflatable ring. You’ll find it at the top of the Nevis Range Mountain Gondola, and the slide is open during school summer holidays.

Choose from a vast range of mountain bike trails at Nevis Range, including white knuckle downhill tracks.

Paragliders can take off at 650 m from either the Sgurr Finnisg-aig or Meall Beag viewpoints and soar amongst Britain’s highest peaks. For more information fly to www.bhpa.co.uk

When was the last time you spent a day inside a giant fridge? Exactly. So it’s time you went to Ice Factor, home to the biggest indoor ice climbing arena in the world. Enjoy an action-packed adventure as you take on technical rock and mixed ice climbs on climbing walls or go for guided walks outdoors.

Troutstanding. You’ll find fishing here is world-class too. Cast a fly over the extraordinary waters of Fort William & Lochaber to catch an array of fish including wild Atlantic salmon and wild brown trout. You can even try some light shore fishing in the sea lochs.

And if you like swishing a golf club you won’t be disappointed either. Tee off at Traigh, a scenic 9-hole course in Arisaig and one of the prettiest in the Highlands, or try the Spean Bridge course, which boasts excellent views towards Ben Nevis and the Mamores.
Beneath the glowering cliffs of Glen Coe took place one of the worst atrocities in Scottish history, the Glencoe Massacre, when 38 members of Clan Macdonald were slaughtered by the Campbells in 1692. You can learn all about the tragic event at the award-winning Glencoe Visitor Centre, just off the A82.

The warriors of Clan Cameron have seen their share of battles over the centuries. Find out about their lives – and deaths – at the Clan Cameron Museum at Achnacarry. A short walk will take you to magnificent Achnacarry House, the ancestral home of the chiefs of the clan. In Glen Roy you can step back even further in time, to the last Ice Age. The ‘Parallel Roads’ were cut into the hillside here by a prehistoric ice-dammed loch.

Why did Bonnie Prince Charlie raise a Jacobite army? Why did his mission fail? Find out at the West Highland Museum in Fort William which boasts a world-renowned collection of Jacobite memorabilia. The Glencfinnan Monument stands in an unforgettable spot at the head of Loch Shiel. It’s to commemorate the raising of the Jacobite Standard by Bonnie Prince Charlie. You can climb the precarious stairs inside for a stunning view down the loch, and pop into the visitor centre for an insight into Bonnie Prince Charlie’s ill-fated military campaign.

Do you have Scottish blood? Trace your ancestral connections at the Lochaber Archive Centre in Fort William. Records in the public search room go all the way back to the 17th century, and you can use them completely free of charge.

Amid the beauty of Fort William & Lochaber, you’ll see plenty of sights that bear witness to a fascinating – and often blood-soaked – past. Visit haunting Glencoe – the setting of one of the most infamous episodes in Scotland’s history – and learn more about the heritage of the area’s small Highland towns and communities at excellent visitor centres and museums.

The Glenfinnan Monument

The Commando Memorial at Spean Bridge
This breathtaking landscape is home to a diverse range of animals, birds and plants. There’s so much wild space, in glens, on mountainsides and by the coast, that you’re sure to meet some wonderful creatures.

Have your camera and binoculars at the ready and see if you can spot some of the area’s fantastic wildlife. Look out for deer or white-tailed sea eagles on a tour of the hills and mountains, or hop on a boat to see seals, otters and harbour porpoises.

Cruise the waters of Loch Linnhe and Loch Eil by Fort William in search of seals, cormorants, oystercatchers and leaping salmon. You can also catch an evening tour of Loch Eil and gaze up at the splendid night sky.

Soak up the breathtaking scenery at a leisurely pace while enjoying a canoe trip, spot amazing wildlife whilst sea kayaking throughout the area and dive amongst fabulous sea creatures in Morven.

Keen photographer? Head to Glen Nevis for an atmospheric low-level walk through the Nevis Gorge to the spectacular Steall Falls.

There are plenty of wildlife watching trips you can book such as the Landrover Safaris from the Glencoe Visitor Centre, or Wild West – wildlife safaris. They’ll know the best places to go looking for eagles, red deer, otters and other interesting creatures.

Do your wildlife spotting on two wheels and cycle the circular route along the Caledonian Canal between Banavie and Gairlochy.

DID YOU KNOW?

Sea eagles were reintroduced to the Isle of Rum in 1975 and have flourished there ever since.
You can sample this delicious food and drink in humble, homely cafés, welcoming pubs or pristine, award-winning restaurants. You can enjoy many a memorable meal overlooking the sea, by the lochside or with a view of the mountains. Seafood crazy? The lobster, crab, scallops and langoustines drawn from the waters off the west coast are so good that they are prized by restaurants in Spain, France and further afield. Here, you can eat them almost as soon as they’ve come out of the water.

You can also feast on wild salmon and trout, landed from lochs and rivers. Or try your hand at catching your own dinner.

Deli Craft in the High Street, Fort William, offers a range of delicious local produce from venison to jam and fudge to pies. Pick up some craft gifts or simply rest your legs and enjoy home baking and coffee in the café.

Try Highland game, such as pheasant, grouse or venison – you’ll find the flavours unforgettable.

Seasonal local vegetables are a must. Scottish oatcakes with local cheese are the perfect finish to a meal.

And have you tried cranachan? This traditional Scottish dessert of oats, cream, whisky and raspberries will have you licking your spoon, begging for more.

Eat in spectacular scenery whilst dining on seasonal local food. Why not try Whitehouse in Lochaline, Morvern or perhaps savour the fresh and natural food at the Glenuig Inn in Moidart.

You can also sample a dram from the organic distillery Nc’ean on the Drimin Estate at Lochaline.

There are also lots of shops where you can buy the best quality fresh produce to take home or even make a picnic with. From wild game and delicious meats to cheeses and preserves, you’ll be spoilt for choice.

Great Glen Charcuterie produces unforgettable products using venison from wild, well managed herds; available in local shops.

Whatever your meal, wherever you are, there’s no better way to end an exquisite evening than with a dram of Highland malt whisky.

Want to know a secret? Fort William & Lochaber tastes even better than it looks. Growing in those glens and swimming in that sea are the freshest and finest flavours you can imagine.

Scotland’s coasts and waters have shaped our history, culture and way of life, from fishing and textiles, to whisky and wave power. Lochaber boasts a hugely diverse coastal scenery, ranging from dramatic cliffs and sea stacks to gleaming white beaches, and a rich offering of inland waters, rivers, lochs and waterfalls.

Outdoors adventures

Embrace the great outdoors and explore Lochaber’s dramatic coastline and natural water features, with an unparalleled range of adventures, from water sports to wildlife watching and island hopping.

Fort William is the Outdoor Capital of the UK so why not take to the water in a kayak with Rockhopper Sea Kayaking on Loch Eil to explore the natural beauty and wildlife of the area, including golden eagles, white-tailed eagles, red throated divers, hen harriers and red deer.

Further west, keep your eyes peeled for dolphins, porpoise, minke whales and even basking sharks that can often be spotted by the coast. The Small Isles of Canna, Eigg, Muck and Rum are full of superb wildlife to see, a fascinating history, and stunning scenery to explore, so hop on a ferry from Mallaig or Arisaig for a trip across to the isles.

Go wild

The seas and waters in Lochaber are teeming with wonderful wildlife.

Take a wildlife safari tour with Loch Shiel Cruises and experience the captivating sights and sounds of the unique wildlife in the area, including golden eagles, white-tailed eagles, red throated divers, hen harriers and red deer.

There are plenty of places to go for a Highland feast, from the award-winning Whitehouse Restaurant in Lochaline to the superb Crannog Seafood Restaurant in Fort William. No visit to Lochaber would be complete without sampling a ‘wee dram’ of uisge beatha or ‘the water of life’ that is Scotch whisky. Enjoy a warming dram of whisky from the new Ardnamurchan Distillery or the mysterious Loch Nevis Distillery, one of the oldest in Scotland. Or sample a refreshing pint of local ale by Glen Spean Brewing Co in Spean Bridge.

From sea to plate

Savour a taste of the freshest catch of the day in the many seafood restaurants in the area.

Stacks to do

Grab your bucket and spade and explore the region’s lochs, seaside spots and coastline. The area has numerous lochs, rivers and coastal areas to explore, as well as opportunities to go for a swim, rock pooling, and walking nearby, or even play a round of golf at Traigh Golf Course.

Take a gentle stroll along Caol Beach and onto the Caledonian Canal embankment for superb views of Fort William and Ben Nevis. Or explore the Lochaber Geopark to uncover the region’s spectacular geology, scenery and unique landscapes – featuring mountains, loch, rivers, coasts, cliffs and sandy beaches.

Year of Coasts and Waters 2020

Explore the variety of brilliant experiences that await you in Lochaber, the Outdoor Capital of the UK. And what better way to celebrate the Year of Coasts and Waters 2020 with an exciting programme of events that showcases all the great wonders that the region has to offer?

Don’t miss a packed programme of events happening across Fort William and Lochaber and the rest of the country. For more information visit www.visitscotland.com/ycw2020

Share your experiences using #ScotlandIsNow and #YCW2020
From sea to summit, Lochaber has perhaps more diverse habitats than any other area of Scotland. The creatures that live here include white-tailed eagles, otters and pine martens, which you can see in their natural habitat on many guided walking events, wildlife cruises, red deer safaris and more throughout the year.

You won’t believe how hard the riders throw themselves down the mountain at the UCI Mountain Bike World Cup near Fort William. You have to see the action to believe it, so pop by in June to witness some serious skills and thrills. On the 4th of July witness the Great Glencoe Challenge, a tough trekathon (walking off-road 26.2 miles in 12 hours) and goes from Glencoe to the foot of Ben Nevis, through stunning scenery. An event that attracts more participants every year.

Ever seen a caber soar through the air? Highland dancers turning the stage into a flash of colour and action? Heard the pipes and drums echo across the loch? No? Then, come to the Glenfinnan Gathering on the Saturday nearest 19 August – the date of the Jacobite Rising.

Many towns and villages host regular events – check the local listings or ask at your nearest VisitScotland iCentre.

Whenever you come to Fort William & Lochaber you’ll find there’s something wonderful going on. From nature festivals to world-class sporting events and local arts happenings, prepare to be entertained and amazed in a gorgeous location.

HIGHLIGHTS
- The Fort William Mountain Festival takes place in February and celebrates the unique mountain culture of the ‘Outdoor Capital of the UK’. Enjoy a fantastic programme of film screenings, talks, hands-on workshops and more.
- There aren’t many motorcycle races that have been going since 1909, and the Scottish Six Day Trials is known as the toughest and most prestigious trials event in the world. Held in May, you’ll see riders roaring up gorges, splashing through rivers and leaping over rocks.
- Nothing stirs the heart like the sound of the bagpipes. Inspire your spirit at the Lochaber Gathering Festival of Piping this summer.
- The traditional music concerts, ceilidhs, children’s entertainment and great craic of Feis Na Mara in Mallaig during October.

Refreshments available*
Café or refreshments are available at this business. Please check prior to visiting if you have particular requirements.

Wi-Fi available*
Guest WiFi access is available at this location.

Wild camping
Wild camping is legal in Scotland but there are guidelines that all campers should follow. Please camp responsibly, in particular avoid overcrowding by moving on to another location if it’s already a busy spot. Whererever possible, use a stove rather than an open fire. Never light an open fire during dry periods or in sensitive places like forests or peaty ground. Take away your rubbish and consider picking up other litter as well. If in doubt, ask the landowner. Their advice just might help you find a better camping spot. For further information see the Scottish Access Code: www.outdooraccess-scotland.scot/practical-guide-all/camping

Take extra care and follow any local advice when parking cars or campervans. Please note, responsible access rights within the Scottish Outdoor Access Code do not extend to motorised transport. If you are planning to travel in a motorhome or campervan check with the landowner before you stop or book a pitch in a nearby camping park. Across the length and breadth of Scotland there are some really fantastic camping parks in stunning locations, from beachside crofts to wooded areas lined with ancient pines. By pitching up at a proper campsite, you’ll help ensure our natural environments and their often fragile ecosystems remain intact.

Smoking
Scotland’s indoor public places, including pubs, restaurants and cafes are smoke-free by law, creating a healthier and fresher environment for residents and visitors to our beautiful country.

Drinking and driving
Scotland’s drink drive limit is 50 mg (of alcohol per 100 ml of blood). The Scottish Government recommends the best approach is to have no alcohol at all, if you are intending to get behind a wheel in Scotland.

NEVIS RANGE

A perfect adventurous day on a Scottish mountain

“Nevis Range is filled with adventure and the perfect place to tick off your holiday wish list.”

Beautiful scenic walks, gondola rides, mountain biking, aerial obstacle courses, mountain dining and great coffee - Nevis Range has it all.

Ride the only Gondola in the UK 650m up Aonach Mòr mountain which is the 9th highest mountain in the UK.

The scenery is spectacular and changes with the seasons. On a clear day you can see as far west as the Skye Cullins.

Explore the mountainside after the Gondola ride to the top station and venture down two trails which lead to the breath taking, panoramic view points Sgurr Finnisg-aig and Meall Beag. A great end of your scenic walk and a perfect spot for your best holiday selfie.

Aonach Mòr is home to many species of animals, so you might see the red deer that often roam the hills or buzzards that nest in the area. Some animals are harder to spot, like the mountain hare, ptarmigan, dotterel bird and pine marten. There are also many hardy species of plants. At certain times of the year, there is an abundance of mountain flowers, bog asphodel and bog cotton that can easily be spotted from the Gondolas.

Feeling peckish after you walks on the top? Enjoy a meal with a view at the Snowgoose Restaurant. It sits within the Gondola top Station serving a wide range of locally sourced and freshly prepared food. Scottish specialties are regularly on the menu and the bar stocks a selection of Scottish beer, gin and whisky.

Nevis Range is a world-famous mountain biking destination and there are many trails throughout Leanachan Forest and the slopes of Aonach Mòr, from gentle family trails to international standard race routes. During the summer you can easily hire bikes and gear on our site from our partners at Nevis Cycle. So why not try some of our amazing trails?

Another exciting family activity we have is Tree Adventure, a series of aerial obstacle courses designed to provide the ultimate forest adventure to thrillseekers of all ages.

Fancy a great cup of coffee? The PineMartens Café at our base station is open daily and serves a selection of hot and cold snacks as well as main meals with a choice of ‘specials’ each day. The food is freshly prepared on the premises.

Visit Nevis Range and tick off most of your holiday wish list!

West Coast Railways Presents

FAMOUS STEAM TRAIN

FORT WILLIAM TO MALLAIG

Described as the greatest railway journey in the world, this 84 mile round trip takes you past a list of impressive extremes. Starting at the highest mountain in Britain, Ben Nevis, it visits Britain’s most westerly mainland railway station, Arisaig; passes close by the deepest freshwater loch in Britain, Loch Morar and the shortest river in Britain, River Morar, finally arriving next to the deepest seawater loch in Europe, Loch Nevis!

The train stops en route to Mallaig at the village of Glenfinnan. Beyond Glenfinnan are the beautiful villages of Lochalshort, Arisaig, Morar and Mallaig. You may alight at Arisaig by request to the guard. From here, on a clear summer’s day, you can see the “Small Isles” of Rum, Eigg, Muck, Canna and the southern tip of Skye.

The train continues on from here passing Morar and the silvery beaches used in the films “Highlander” and “Local Hero”.

The Fort William Accommodation Marketing Group is a local, non profit making group of over 40 B&Bs, Guest Houses and self-catering accommodation owners in the Fort William area. The group makes finding and booking accommodation in Fort William and surrounding areas as easy as possible with their fully functional online availability check. Visitors can select the dates and room(s) they need and the results will be returned in the form of a list of members, all of whom will have appropriate availability.

We do not charge our guests booking fees or our members commission so visitors can be confident they are booking their chosen accommodation at the best price available and their money is staying in the area.

Our members all aim to provide visitors with genuine Highland hospitality, comfortable accommodation and, where applicable, a substantial breakfast to start their day in the morning.
